Gretchen Chase Vaughn, Ph.D.
Senior Researcher
MAI-CoC HIV Lead
The MayaTech Corporation
Silver Spring, MD

Gretchen Chase Vaughn, Ph.D., a Senior Researcher at the MayaTech Corporation is the Training and Technical Assistance Lead for the MAI CoC Pilot-Integration of HIV Medical Care into Behavioral Health Program. Dr. Vaughn's experience as a clinician/researcher uniquely qualifies her to forge links between community organizations, service providers and researchers. As a licensed clinical psychologist and program evaluator, she has devoted more than twenty years to national efforts in community-rooted prevention and mental health services for under-served populations. She has designed and coordinated the evaluation of programs with a focus on mental health, substance abuse, and HIV/AIDS; family strengthening and parent skills training; homeless youth; health disparities; historical/multigenerational, child and family trauma. As a behavioral scientist she works extensively with academic institutions, state and federal agencies, tribal communities, and nonprofit organizations to provide consultation, supervision, training and technical assistance, evaluation support, and policy analysis.

Laura Galbreath, M.P.P.
Director, SAMHSA-HRSA Center for Integrated Health Solutions (CIHS)
National Council for Behavioral Health
Washington, D.C.

Laura Galbreath leads the SAMHSA/HRSA Center for Integrated Health Solutions, a national training and technical assistance center dedicated to promoting the development of integrated primary and behavioral health services to better address the needs of individuals with mental health and substance use conditions, whether seen in specialty behavioral health or primary care provider settings.

As Director, Ms. Galbreath is focused on ensuring high quality technical assistance to SAMHSA's Primary and Behavioral Health Care Integration (PBHCI) grantees, health centers, and other safety net providers working to integrate primary and behavioral health care. In addition, she directs aggressive efforts to share practice tools; measurement instruments and outcomes; lessons learned; and poignant consumer stories from the PBHCI grantees to the broader healthcare field, as well as build and strengthen strategic partnerships to support policy, clinical, and organizational change that promote successful community healthcare integration efforts. Apart from adapting to a changing healthcare landscape, Ms. Galbreath brings extensive experience in healthcare integration policy and practice improvement, community organizing, and strategic relationships. As CIHS Director, Ms. Galbreath managed CIHS' day-to-day operations, led learning communities to support integration, created collaborative care infrastructures for shared patients, and increased access to primary care services for people with mental illnesses and addictions. Prior to joining CIHS, Ms. Galbreath held leadership roles at the National Council, Mental Health America, and the National Mental Health Association of Georgia where she conducted state policy issue tracking and analysis, technical assistance, and facilitated state, local, or multi-state advocacy meetings on a range of issues including Medicaid reform, Mental Health Insurance Parity, Medicare Part D, and healthcare reform. She received her Master of Public Policy from George Mason University.

Moneta Sinclair, Ed.D., LPC, CPCS
Clinical Director of Addiction Services
Positive Impact Health Centers, Inc.
