

Nick Szubiak, MSW, LCSW

Integrated Health Consultant, SAMHSA-HRSA Center for Integrated Health Solutions,
National Council for Behavioral Health

Nick Szubiak brings more than 15 years of experience in direct service, administration and clinical supervision. As Integration Consultant, he provides technical assistance, consultation and training toward integration of behavioral health and primary care. His projects include health homes, FQHC partnerships with community behavioral health, implementing screening and assessment, coordinating care, working in high functioning teams and tracking and measuring clinical outcomes. His expertise involves systems change management with emphasis around the integration of primary and behavioral health care. Nick's training experience fosters both primary care and behavioral health care provider's successful adaption to clinical and organizational culture change. Nick is an adjunct professor at the University of Hawaii, Myron B. Thomas School of Social Work. He earned his Master's Degree in Social Work from Rutgers University.