

Wendy Potts, M.S.

Ms. Potts serves as the director of the study management unit in the Division of Psychiatric Services Research in the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Maryland School of Medicine. She has nearly a decade experience implementing and overseeing complex research studies and evaluation projects. As she provided direct oversight of the STIRR clinical trial she has the experience and skill to ensure the implementation and delivery of the STIRR intervention at the Walter P. Carter clinic. She has considerable experience in providing and supervising others in the provision of motivational interviewing. She will be responsible for ensuring fidelity of services and treatment interventions, timely submission of quarterly reports, and liaison with evaluation team and the University of Maryland, Baltimore IRB. She will have oversight responsibility for the STIRR program, including supervising the peer and associated staff.