

Aaron Williams, MA

Director of Training and Technical Assistance for Substance Abuse, SAMHSA-HRSA
Center for Integrated Health Solutions, National Council for Behavioral Health

Aaron Williams serves as the Director Training and Technical Associate for Substance Abuse for the SAMHSA-HRSA Center for Integrated Health Solutions (CIHS) at the National Council for Behavioral Health (National Council). In this role, Mr. Williams leads the National Council/CIHS' strategic initiatives on substance use screening and treatment, and provides direct training and technical assistance services that promote primary and behavioral healthcare integration with special attention to addiction treatment providers. Prior to joining the National Council, Mr. Williams served as the Associate Director of Research and Information for the Danya Institute, Inc., and the Central East Addiction Technology Transfer Center (Central East) where he was responsible for the management, and dissemination of all research related to Institute endeavors. Mr. Williams has more than 13 years of experience in the field of behavioral health services, with an emphasis on substance abuse treatment, workforce development, and the use of evidence-based-practices in clinical settings. Mr. Williams holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Morehouse College and a master degree in psychology from The Catholic University of America.